E -LIBRARY - A NEW ENDEAVOR

Dear Parents,

Greetings!!!

"Ask anyone with a big book collection, and they'll tell you moving them were the hardest part of the move. Take down a bookshelf and there's often no less than four or possibly up to eight. This is the single greatest argument for welcoming e-books."

We are delighted to inform you that the school has taken an endeavor of organizing E -library access to the students and their parents in collaboration with Britannica. It is a trial session for students and teachers, where in through collective feedback of them, the school would purchase the license of few useful books.

The User id and password will be sent through message on Sunday i.e. 10 July 2016. The access of E-library is valid till 7 August 2016.

We want you as the stakeholders to utilize it judiciously and give your requisite feedback in the school almanac latest by 9 August 2016.

The three components of E-Library are:

1. E-Books
2. Britannica School
3. Image Quest

1. E Books:

Britannica's non-fiction subject reference e-book collections offer a time-saving and economical way to make authoritative, curriculum-aligned content available in the classroom, library, or at home. Britannica titles in EVS / Science, Mathematics, Social Sciences, and General Reference provide trustworthy resources for reading, writing, reference and research and create a solid foundation for your e-book collection / library.

Key salient features:

- Access both Online and Offline
- Notes, bookmarks, highlights can be saved for future references.
- These eBooks' can be printed for noncommercial purpose only
- Text supported by rich quality images

2. B School:

Britannica School has a wealth of content and a wide variety of resources that promote rigor while students read, write, research, and develop vocabulary in the content areas. A consolidated search feature brings all the resources together in one place for a time-saving review.
